

The situation with Sinclair Broadcasting needs your attention. It is getting increasingly difficult to trust the news we get over the airwaves. Public news and programming should not be biased with politics. If we are to allow heads of broadcasting companies, and political bodies, to manipulate the perception of the public, then what makes us different from the countries we are trying to "liberate?"